Bounty Drops Anchor in Mattapoisett

Out of the dusk the blob on the horizon grew in size and sharpness. It appeared like a ghost of things past. At first, people enjoying the breeze at the wharf and waterfront thought it was a return visit from our old friend the Shenandoah. Then, the three masts and the square yards loomed larger and everyone rushed for their binoculars and home for their telescopes. No doubt about it now as the majestic vessel came straight down the channel and anchored well within range of the naked eye. Once again

It looked so right there just off the site of the shipyard where so many ships had been built and had started down the ways to the sea and all the oceans of the world. The word spread like magic and a steady stream of people flocked to the wharf to see history repeat itself. It was the famous replica of one of the best known ships ever to sail the Pacific Ocean. The mutiny and Captain Bligh's incredible time but for all time. This visitor to a harbor that has known so many was big at 160 feet, and beautiful as only a square rigger can be. She drew small boats like bees to nectar early Saturday morning. Then she drew in her chain and anchor and sailed to her destination at the Maritime Academy at Buzzards Bay. Like a ship in the night, the HMS Bounty had become the centerpiece of our harbor and it had looked so right at home.

My thanks to Ann and Peter Briggs who kindly invited me aboard so that I could get close enough to take these photos.

Joy does families as well as individuals and will mount and frame your silhouettes as you like. Bonnie Robertson from Brewster will demonstrate the popular art of basket making; James Harrop of Mattapoisett is participating again this year. He is now carving antique furniture reproductions. One of his carvings of bedposts won first place at the Mystic, CT exhibition this past spring. Charcoal portraits, always a popular feature, will be done by Jane Bergoli of Dartmouth. Another Mattapoisett artist is Dorcas Layport who is well-known for the difficult skill of reverse painting on glass.

These are just a few of the artists who will be at the Craft-Art Show on Saturday, August 17th. Watch next week's Presto for descriptions of additional participants. In addition to displaying and demonstrating their crafts, the artists will have items for sale. (Rain date is August 18th.)

A Thank You

TO THE EDITOR

It was mid-afternoon on July 16th as my wife and I sailed our thirty foot cruising sailboat along the west shore of Mattapoisett Harbor after a crossing from Cuttyhunk. We were bound for Sippican Harbor but the combination of our Loran being in the repair shop and my careless navigation, which made insufficient allowance for tidal drift in Buzzards Bay, had us headed full-tilt for Mattapoisett Ledge.

In the nick of time we were saved from serious damage to our boat and possible injuries to ourselves by two series of three blasts of an air horn from the nearby shore. This universal danger signal alerted me to my error; and not a moment too soon. A closer look at our chart told us how we had erred and we eventually made our way into Sippican Harbor.

There are some good, kind and caring people in this world who extend themselves to help others (and to save some of us from our folly). Perhaps through the pages of your publication we can let it be known that the person who saved us has our profound appreciation and is remembered in our prayers.

Yours truly and thank you,

Mr. Normandin and others at the landfill have constructed tables upon which recyclable items are deposited. The tables were made out of lumber from the landfill. This enables the landfill personnel to sort the items correctly. Mr. Normandin said that the problem is educational. People have to become accustomed to cleaning the items and removing rings and caps, etc., he stated. He said that the summer population has eased the situation because, he said, "they come from communities that have had recycling for some time and know the proper procedure". DCJ photo

M.Y.A.A. NEEDS YOU!

The Mattapoisett Youth Athletic Association is a group of caring parents and individuals that serves many purposes. With town recreation funds totally gone, the task of organizing and funding all recreational programs falls on the M.Y.A.A. Everything from the new instructional baseball clinic and little league to tennis lessons and adult aerobics is in jeopardy should the M.Y.A.A. not receive more volunteer support from the people of Mattapoisett.

Beyond providing hundreds of children and adults with hours of fun and athletic activities, these programs generate an environment where positive encouragement and a sense of accomplishment does wonders for the children's self-esteem.

The M.Y.A.A. also works closely with the school system in supporting drug awareness and in some cases, sponsoring essay contests. Thousands of dollars have also gone to maintaining and improving school fields and sports equipment.

Our next meeting, which will be held Tuesday, August 13th, at 7:30 at the Old Hammondtown School auditorium, will focus on the upcoming youth basketball program and, as it is always needed, fundraising.

We need your help and ideas in order to keep this worthwhile organization up and running. Please make plans to attend. It's a great group to work with.

him as his son for 10 years.

In April Sister City members in Tosashimizu extended an invitation to 10 American teenagers, to be selected by Sister City members here, as their guests for an August 17-29 trip to Japan, accompanied by five American adults. The American students would also be accompanied by 10 Japanese students, who would act as young ambassadors in introducing their American guests to their homeland and their culture. Both American and Japanese students must be 14, since that was Manjiro's age at the time of his rescue.

"It is a most generous gift", commented members of the Fairhaven/New Bedford Sister City Committee. "All expenses, except some personal ones, are being defrayed by Tosashimizu City and Kochi Prefectures."

When the Japanese arrive here August 14th they will enjoy a whirlwind of activities. Welcomed at Millicent Library, they will be taken home by their hosts for a quick washup, then transported to a festive occasion of American food and camaraderie. The next day they will meet New Bedford Mayor John K. Bullard and the Fairhaven Board of Selectmen, tour New Bedford's Historic District and the Whaling Museum, enjoy a picnic lunch and visit the sites where Manjiro once lived, went to school and attended church with his American father. Dinner at Branigan's in Regency Towers followed by a performance of "Hello Dolly" at the Zeiterion Theatre will complete the day.

Friday, August 16th, has been reserved for packing, shopping, visiting the Blessing of the Fleet festival or whatever families and students decide. On Saturday, August 17th, 8:55 a.m. is flight time from Green Airport in Providence for the 20 students and 10 adults. Arriving in Washington, D.C. at 10:21 a.m. the group will leave for Tokyo at 11:55 a.m.

Since June 26th the 10 American students selected have been involved in an orientation program to prepare them for the adventure ahead. They have been learning some practical Japanese phrases, something about politics, economics and history of Japan and how to manage a pair of chopsticks.

Events celebrating the 150th anniversary of Manjiro's rescue will be climaxed October 6th with the Third Annual Manjiro Festival in the center of Fairhaven.

"There are many people who are working as nurse's aides or in other health-related positions who are interested in becoming nurses, but don't have the resources to quit working and enter college full-time", said Beverly Pusateri, director of the Career Access Program (CAP) at BCC. "But BCC has designed a special program to give such people another way to enter a nursing career." The CAP program provides a "career ladder" approach, where participants can keep working while they are "moving up the ladder" of required college course work necessary to earn a degree in nursing. Classes meet in the evening.

Best of all, the program is completely free, funded by a grant from the Department of Medical Security.

Classes in the next round of this program begin the week of September 1st.

For more information contact Beverly Pusateri or Judith Page at 508-678-2811, ext. 358 or 269.

Benefit includes Silent Auction

HIGHLIGHT OF GOLF TOURNAMENT

A silent auction featuring unusual and handmade items will be held in connection with the Lighthouse Hospice Golf Tournament at Bay Pointe Country Club in Onset on Friday, August 16th, according to Katherine Church of Rochester, auction chairman. The event will be open to the public throughout the afternoon and early evening.

Among the items made by local craftsmen are a duck decoy, a Nantucket basket and a crocheted wool afghan. Other auction offerings include a ladies Seiko watch, golf and sports equipment, pewter, framed prints, a basket of cheer, gift certificates and many more.

There is no admission charge to the auction which will open at 2:00 p.m. Winning bidders do not need to be present at the close, but will be notified by phone.

The afternoon golf tournament, with a 12:30 shotgun start, will offer prizes in both men's and women's divisions for low gross, low net and Callaway score. Prizes include certificates for Foot-Joy golf shoes and Titleist equipment, courtesy of the Acushnet Company. There will also be prizes for longest drive and closest to the pin, and a chance at a Buick convertible
